The Daily Press.

HONGKONG, JANUARY 9TH, 1913.

THE political crisis through which Japan has just passed appears to have been a particularly sharp one. Japanese Ministries are not long-lived, the average being probably from eighteen months to two years, but never since Japan adopted representative government has she experienced such difficulty in finding anybody willing to accept the duties of Premier. That Prince Katsura should have been induced to emerge from the seclusion of the Palace to again occupy the post shows the difficulties that were experienced in finding a suitable leader. As has already been stated, the SAIONJI Government fell on the question of military expenditure. The army was determined to have two extra Divisions to be stationed in Korea, and the process of administrative adjustment and retrenchment did not permit of any fund being set aside for the purpose. The Minister of War, urged on by the Army leaders, stuck to his guns, and, finding the Premier immovable, finally presented his resignation to the Emperor—a quite unprecedented form of procedure, since such resignations usually go through the hands of the Minister-President. The fate of the Ministry then turned upon the question whether another statesman could be found to take the place of the resigning War Minister, but as the regulations only allow officers of a certain rank on active service to occupy the post, naturally no officer was found willing to brave the feeling of the Army leaders by coming forward to take office. The result was that the whole of the Ministers were ultimately forced to hand in their resignations. The successor to Marquis SAIONJI, the retiring Premier, had evidently a difficult task before him. The country is crying out for relief from the heavy burden of taxation, and this can only be done by somewhat severe retrenchment. Naturally it is desired that this retrenchment should be chiefly effected in non-productive directions, and to allow the Army, which is essentially a non-productive department, to increase its expenditure, or even to maintain its present expenditure, is regarded as blowing the whole scheme to the winds. The matter is further complicated by an old arrangement entered into by a preceding Minister by which the Navy was to receive an extra appropriation spread over a long number of years, the amount of the appropriation for this year being some seven million yen. The retiring Ministry did not propose to touch this, or, apparently, to make any retrenchment in the Navy Department. This, of course, excited the jealousy of the Army, which naturally fails to see why expansion in their Service should be restricted while expansion in the sister Service is permitted. The Minister-President succeeding Marquis SAIONJI had therefore to face a difficult position. There were two alternatives—either to throw over the scheme of retrenchment altogether, or to reduce the expenditure of both the Army and Navy. To do the former was to arouse the hostility of the people; to do the latter was to brave the opposition of the two most powerful organisations in Japan. It is hardly surprising that under these circumstances the post of Minister-President should go begging for quite a time. That peculiar unofficial body, known as the Elder Statesman, was again to the fore, although its disappearance has been prophesied any time for the last ten years. A room in the Palace was assigned for their meetings, and day after day the public were regaled with more or less imaginative results of their confabulation. According to these reports the post was handed from one Elder Statesman to another, until at last Prince Katsura agreed to relinquish his office of Keeper of the Privy Seal and step into the breach. There is some difference of opinion as to whether this was a self-sacrificing act on his part, or whether he schemed to bring about the fall of the Ministry so as to obtain an excuse for relinquishing a distasteful position that had been forced upon him. Of this, however, it may be said that the evidence is insufficient, while on the other hand it is certain that Prince Katsura only accepted the post of Premier as a last resort, and that he only is capable of bringing the conflicting elements into some sort of harmony. As to what policy the new Premier will adopt there is yet some doubt. It is suggested that he will reduce the votes for both the Navy and the Army, and he certainly possesses enough influence with the latter to reconcile it to this course.

This suggestion is to a certain extent borne out by the fact that Prince Katsura's accession to office caused considerable alarm among the Navy party, and that it was only after what amounted to a command from the Emperor that the Minister of the Navy, who has now held the office during three Ministries, consented to retain it. That such a course was necessary to prevent a strike among the Navy leaders shows what high feeling there is between the two Services. The chief trouble will begin, however, when the new Ministry comes to face the Diet and present its Budget. The country is intent upon retrenchment and unless the new Ministry meets its views or contrives to convert the members of the Diet, it will encounter considerable opposition, which may end in an appeal to the country. In a country which has so lately adopted representative institutions it is perhaps not surprising to find a lack of political purity, and there are ways and means by which the Katsura Ministry may succeed in getting a new Diet elected which will be submissive to its wishes. The chief point brought out by the crisis through which the country has passed is the power of the Army. It has been pointed out that this is a survival of feudal times and that the country will never escape military rule until it places civilians in the posts of Ministers of the Army and Navy. Such a reform, however, could not be effected without a sharp conflict of opinion, and Prince Katsura would be the last man to attempt it.

There were seven inches of snow in Tokyo on December 30th.

Nineteen new Indian constables were sworn in by Mr. Hazeland yesterday.

Fifty feet of the Bund at Nanking between the Government and the German hulks, recently slid into the river. The entire width of the Bund is gone and part of it is completely surrounded by water. The rest of the Bund is subsiding and the foreign hongs are being vacated.

The American community in Peking has telegraphed to Washington urging the early recognition by the United States of the Chinese Republic.

In connection with the boycott of the colony's subsidiary silver, it was reported yesterday that two prominent Chinese employers of labour have already started on their annual New Year holiday in their native country.

Rewards up to $1,000 are being offered by the Government for information leading to the conviction of persons inciting to boycott. The notice posted by the Captain Superintendent of Police states that a number of placards have been found in the Colony which are conducting to intimidate persons who wish to use the electric tram cars of the Hongkong Electric Traction Co., Ltd., of Hongkong, and threatening letters have been received by individuals in connection with the matter.

While the Manchuria was making the trip between Kobe and Yokohama recently the death occurred of one of her passengers, Miss Lottie Moon, who for forty years had been engaged in the Mission Field in China, being last stationed in Tengchow-fu, and attached to the Southern Baptist Mission. Miss Moon, who was 71 years of age, boarded the Manchuria at Shanghai, being accompanied by a friend and fellow-worker, Miss Millar. When she set out on the voyage, Miss Moon was in a very weak state, but she desired, if possible, to see her friends in the homeland before she passed away. On the vessel arriving at Yokohama, the body was brought ashore and taken to the mortuary. The body was cremated the same evening, and the ashes shipped on the Manchuria to be taken to the deceased's old home in Norfolk, Virginia, U.S. by her companion, Miss Millar.

THE CHEUNG CHAU PIRACY.

The two women and the man charged with being concerned in the piratical attack on Cheung Chau Island in August last again appeared before Mr. Hazeland yesterday afternoon, when further evidence was given.

Mr. T. H. King, assistant deputy superintendent of police, deposed to visiting Macao and examining the junk upon which the defendants had been arrested. It was a two-masted junk, but did not look like a fishing junk. He found a quantity of joss sticks and other articles on board.

After evidence had been given by the sergeant interpreter at Cheung Chau Police Station,

The prisoners were formally committed to the Criminal Sessions.

THE BANK-NOTE CASE.

The hearing of the charges against eight Japanese of being in possession of a large amount of forged Kwangtung notes was continued at the Magistracy yesterday before Mr. C. D. Melbourne.

Inspector Morrison spoke to having searched the first defendant on the Macao Steamboat Wharf and to finding upon him numerous notes varying in value from one dollar to five dollars. He had also upon him Japanese notes. Witness also searched in the detective office the portmanteau belonging to the first defendant and found in it bundles of notes.

The hearing was again adjourned.

THE MAGISTRACY.

A man was yesterday fined $200 by Mr. Hazeland for being in unlawful possession of opium drugs.

Mr. Hazeland yesterday imposed a fine of $50 upon a Chinese whom he had convicted of obstruction at West Point and of assaulting the police.

The first saloon boy and the bath room boy employed on the Empress of India were charged with having a quantity of opium in their possession value $150 and with exporting it. The case was remanded, bail being fixed at $500.

A Chinese was charged before Mr. Melbourne yesterday with attempting to steal a roll of canvas and a roll of packing cloth, value $3, from a cupboard on H.M.S. Workless as she was lying in dock at Hung Hom. Defendant, who was discovered by a bluejacket as he was removing the articles, was fined $25 or one month's imprisonment.

A man who appeared before Mr. Hazeland yesterday, charged with being in possession of a razor blade for felonious purposes, informed his Worship that he was a bad character, who had come from Canton the day before yesterday. His Worship said it was very candid of him to admit that he was a bad character, and he would be put away until after the Chinese New Year. He was sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment.

When a Chinese constable on Tuesday arrested a man whom he discovered with salted herrings in his possession which he had stolen from the Hongkong Wharf and Godown Company he found himself assaulted by another man, apparently a friend of the prisoner. He struck the officer with a cargo hook, and tore his tunic. Both men appeared before Mr. Melbourne at the Magistracy yesterday, and the first was sentenced to one month's imprisonment and four hours in the stocks, the second being ordered to pay a fine of $10 or go to prison for fourteen days.

THE BALKAN WAR.
THE PEACE DELIBERATIONS.
ATTITUDE OF THE POWERS.

LONDON, January 8th.

The Ambassadors met at the Foreign Office to consider the position arising out of the indefinite postponement of the peace negotiations.

Reuter learns that the Ambassadors are awaiting instructions with a view to settlement between the belligerents by united action.

It is believed that the Powers are not opposed to the cession of Adrianople to Bulgaria.

It is semi-officially stated in Berlin that the Powers have decided to take immediate action in the cause of Peace. Identical representations will be made simultaneously to Constantinople and the Turkish Delegates in London with the object of preventing a renewal of hostilities.

In the House of Commons Sir Edward Grey announced that the action of the Powers in the event of the failure of the Conference was receiving the attention of the Powers, but he was unable to make a statement of their views and decisions till they could be made with common consent.

M. Danoff, interviewed by Reuter, said he was tranquil and confident that the demands of the Allies will be accepted, and peace preserved.

There have been no developments in the Peace Conference since Monday. The atmosphere in diplomatic circles continues to be eminently pacific, the Powers appearing to have agreed on the necessity of smoothing over the difficulties of both Turkey and the Allies and of Bulgaria and Roumania. The Austro-Russian situation has improved lately owing to the frank exchange of views.

A message from Constantinople says that Nazim Pasha and Nora Dunchian proceeded by special train yesterday to meet the Bulgarian General Savoff. They returned in the evening.

A TURKISH LOAN.

Arrangements to issue a small and short loan to relieve the immediate needs in Turkey were concluded in London yesterday. This is considered as indicating that the prospects of peace are much improved.

The British trade returns for the month of December show that there were increases in the value of imports amounting to $9,130,811 and increases in the value of exports amounting to $2,887,159.

The only decreases in imports shown in the annual Board of Trade return are as follows:—Dutiable food, drink, $262,892; Ships, $30,830. The principal increases are in grain and flour, $12,500,000; other food, $4,000,000; tobacco, $1,000,000; raw materials, $27,500,000, of which cotton claims $9,000,000 and wool $500,000; manufactures, $19,000,000. The increases in exports are:—Iron and steel manufactures, machinery, ships, etc., $10,000,000; coal, $4,000,000; textiles, $2,000,000; manufactures, cotton, $2,250,000, and wool, $500,000.

THE CHINA LOAN.
THE ECLIPSE OF MR. CRISP.

CHINESE AFFAIRS.

BRITISH PARLIAMENTARY GROUP FORMED.

LONDON, January 8th.

A group of members of Parliament interested in Chinese affairs was formed on Monday night, Mr. J. C. Wedgwood presiding. A resolution was adopted that the group be extended later so as to include men of letters, science, and other distinguished men. The objects of the Group will be to keep in touch with similar groups elsewhere, and with the leaders of thought in the Chinese Parliament and to help the new Republic by Parliamentary action, by influencing public opinion, and keeping a check upon misstatements in the Press, and in every way to give the new Republic the best opportunity of developing China on free and independent lines. Mr. Hain Jau Kia, who was instrumental in forming a similar group in France, addressed the meeting and stated that the French Group was supported by MM. Painleve, Jaures, Anatole France, and Pressence.

UNIONISTS AND FOOD TAXES.

RUMOUR OF A NEW CENTRE PARTY.

LONDON, January 8th.

Mr. Bonar Law could not attend the Conference of Lancashire and Cheshire Unionists on Saturday. The Conference has been postponed to the 18th inst.

The Lancashire Conference has been postponed at the request of Lord Derby.

He and the Duke of Devonshire conferred with Mr. Bonar Law in the House of Commons yesterday, and it is believed that a settlement of the difference is imminent. Rumours circulated in regard to the future policy of the Unionists include a suggestion to form a Birmingham group in the House of Commons, consisting of food taxers; also that there is a possibility of the re-appearance of Lord Rosebery as the Leader of the disaffected free fooders as a Centre Party.

In reply to a question by Reuter's Agency, it was stated that the programme of the Tariff Reform League will not be affected by any possible change in the Unionist policy.

Y.M.C.A. PRESIDENTIAL RECEPTION.

H.E. SIR HENRY MAY'S APPEAL.

Last evening a large number of members and friends of the European Y.M.C.A. attended a reception given by H.E. the Governor (President of the Association) and Lady May, in the Association's rooms in Alexandra Buildings.

His Excellency presided, and in the course of a few remarks said he was very glad to welcome so many there on that, the first opportunity he had had of seeing the Association in full force on his return to the Colony. He was glad to find that the Association was animated by a new spirit. It had got the bit between its teeth, and was fairly running away. It was not running quite in the direction they would like it—no showers of golden shekels or silver dollars—but still it was animated by the spirit that could win a race. He wanted to appeal to both members and non-members to give them a push forward, and give them a chance of winning this race. His Excellency referred in eulogistic terms to a similar organisation to the Y.M.C.A. in Manila, which was called the Columbia Club. It was like their Association in that it was tectotal. Any man who wished to be at his best should become a tectotaler. He was not a tectotaler himself—(laughter)—but when he used to ride he knocked it off. The Manila Club's building was given to the members, and if anyone would give them such a building their Association would show a splendid balance sheet. They had to pay several thousand dollars a year for their rooms, and as they had no profit from a bar they were naturally in low water. His Excellency further mentioned that he had been in negotiation with a certain gentleman with reference to a tennis ground for the Association. The gentleman viewed the matter in a very kindly spirit and he hoped it would materialise. (Applause.)

A short programme of music and recitations was gone through to the evident enjoyment of these present, the contributors being H.E. Sir Henry May, the Hon. Mr. H. E. Pollock, K.C., Miss Dixon, Miss Lockhart, and Mr. George Lammert. The Secretary (Mr. F. G. White) wound up the proceedings with a few interesting remarks concerning the work of the Association.

THE THEATRE.

"CANDIDA."

Last night at the Theatre Royal, Mr. Allan Wilkie and his talented Company presented Mr. George Bernard Shaw's successful play "Candida" before a small audience, and the production, as upon a previous occasion, was an undoubted success. The "Rev. James Morrell" of Mr. Allan Wilkie, was an outstanding feature, and the "Candida" of Miss Frediwyde Hunter-Watts, gave ample scope for that gifted lady's talent. The other members of the Company excelled themselves, and merited the hearty applause tendered by a sympathetic audience.

To-night Mr. H. A. Jones' popular play "The Liars" is to be staged.

THE PORTUGUESE FLAG.

It is applied with a white wash brush, disinfects, and destroys all microbes, dries like flat paint, and sets hard as cement. It contains no lead and therefore does not discolour or turn black, nor crack, scale or peel off.

Made in two qualities for inside and outside work; sold and used by decorators everywhere.
